Betty Haig 2010 Grand Marshal of Snowmobile Torchlight Parade

The Boonville Snow Festival Committee is proud to announce Betty Haig, 81, Constableville, as the 2010 Snowmobile Torchlight Parade Grand Marshal, which will kick off the 4th annual Snow Festival races scheduled January 29-31.

Betty was born and raised in Oswego, NY, and has no siblings. She graduated from Oswego High School and attended college at Penn State/ Bucks Community College. Besides snowmobiling, Betty's interests have included bowling, dancing, and camping. She now enjoys photography, journalism and reading.

Betty was a professional secretary for over 50 years and retired in 1997. Presently she is employed by the Boonville Herald as a correspondent for Constableville, photographer and contributing writer.

Betty is married to Harold Haig, who is a Retired Air Force M/Sgt. They have two sons, Harold Jr. and wife Linda and David. They also have three grandchildren, Frank, Michael, and Jessica.

The couple has resided in many places, including Oswego for 25 years; Bucks County, PA (Levittown and Warminster) for 32 years, and they moved to New York in 1985 upon Harold's retirement.

The couple joined The Lost Trail Snowmobile Club in 1986 when snowmobiling was a big interest. Harold became a groomer driver, and Betty became the corresponding secretary in 1989 and is to this very day. Betty handles all correspondence, memberships, and insurance. She is also the editor of the newsletter, updates the website, and has worked with safety courses for 18 years. She also handles the Club's customer relations.

Unfortunately, she does not ride any more due to physical ailments, but she enjoys the camaraderie of the club members and continues to do what she can to make it the best snowmobile club in the North Country.

"Betty is a great asset to the world of snowmobiling. Her dedication to the sport and her active involvement in the Lost Trail Snowmobile Club will forever make her an icon in the sport of snowmobiling," said Jennifer Fruin, vice president of the Boonville Snow Festival.

Major sponsors of this year's event are: Majestic Fireworks of Clinton; CJ Motorsports; Ski-Doo; Econo Lodge, Rome; The Boonville Hotel; Halpins Fuel, Forestport; and Headwaters Plaza, Boonville. Visit www.boonville-snowfestival.com for more information.

EASTERN PRO ADIRONDACK CUP WINNER - The winner of the Eastern Pro Adirondack Cup on Sunday was Jacques Villeneuve, who returned to Boonville this year after recovering from a broken leg. He was the 2007 champion in Boonville. Aaron Fellows was the 2008 winner. Pictured above with Villeneuve are: First row, Snow Festival Board members Lori O'Connor and Carol Crawford; First Vice President Jennifer Fruin; Second Vice President Linda Bourgeois; President Sue Kraszewski; and Treasurer Dianne Hendrickson. Behind them are representatives from Ski-Doo, the major sponsor of the Boonville Snow Festival.
